Don't Worry—Eat.

Memphis, Tenn.—Mrs. Emma D. Looney, of this place, says: "I suffered misery for nearly eight years, but since taking Cardui, I am much stronger and I haven't missed a single meal. I hardly know how to express my gratitude." Don't worry about your symptoms—Cardui doesn't treat them. What you need is strength. Cardui helps you to get it. Take Cardui, because other tonics and medicines do not contain its peculiar and successful ingredients, imported especially for its manufacture. Half a century of success, has stamped Cardui with the seal of public approval. During this time, Cardui has benefited a million women. Why not you. Try it, today.—Advertisement.

FAMOUS MEN CALL FORD

SILLY, RIDICULOUS, FOOLISH

Here is what some of the leading men of the United States think about Henry Ford's personally conducted peace party:

President Wilson—? Former President Taft just laughed.

Former President Roosevelt—Not mischievous only because it is so ridiculous.

Alton B. Parker—Ford is a clown.

E. C. Benedict—It is sheer foolishness.

Col. George Harvey—It is silly.

James R. Day—The plan is grotesque and will accomplish nothing but ridicule of our country.

William Jennings Bryan—It is worthy of praise and will accomplish much good.

John W. Wamaker—Mr. Ford has three things—a mission, a generous heart and a fat pocketbook, but he has no plan to stop the war.

Cardinal Gibbons—I think there are too many formidable difficulties in the way to hope for its successful culmination.

Gov. Fielder, of New Jersey—Meddlesome.

Judge Ben Lindsey—I heartily approve Mr. Ford's efforts to stop the slaughter.

John Hays Hammond, Jr.—Two weeks in England would show them their peace plans are absurd.

Charles W. Eliott, president emeritus of Harvard—"Ford's peace cruise is absurd."

Tax Delinquents.

An extra penalty of $1 for advertising and six per cent. in addition will be added to all state and county taxes not paid by January 1. This makes a total penalty of twelve per cent plus $1.

JEWELL SMITH, S. C. C.

Primitive Plow.

The most primitive of plows was shaped from the trunks, limbs or roots of trees. Such were in use close to the time of the Christian era. The Old Testament mentions plows of iron or bronze, but except in western Europe and America little progress has been made in the improving of the implement since the time of Herodotus. The first recorded form of plow is found on the monuments of Egypt, where it consists simply of a wooden wedge tipped with iron and fastened to a handle projecting backward and a beam, pulled by men or oxen, and projecting forward.

ORIGIN OF "COLONEL CARTER"

Hopkinson Smith's Famous Book Had Its Inception in After-Dinner Stories.

I have understood that the way "Colonel Carter of Cartersville" came to be written was this: Hopkinson Smith was the best raconteur of a formal story I ever heard. I recall that a mutual friend once told me that Hopkinson Smith's stories had changed the tone of stories told at men's dinners in New York. I give the account as it was once given to me.

He had become known as a delightful after-dinner story teller, and presently his stories made so much impression that one day Gilder of the Century Magazine said to him that the stories he told—in the form in which he told them—ought to be preserved, and suggested his writing them for the Century. Out of this grew a paper which was styled, at first, something like "The Colonel's Dinner Table," the colonel being simply a peg to hang his stories on. But before the paper was finished "the colonel" had captured the narrator, and out of it came "Colonel Carter of Cartersville," with "Miss Nancy" and her air of lavender and grace, and all the chivalry and charm of a beautiful picture of the old times in a new setting.—Thomas Nelson Page, in Scribner's Monthly.
